

Dan Fillipi

Dan Fillipi is a botanist with more than 20 years experience in environmental consulting, He specializes biological and botanical related issues in support of a variety of infrastructure and energy-development projects.

Mr. Fillipi has extensive field experience performing a variety of surveys for wildlife, avian, and rare plant species as well as assessment of wildlife and wetland habitat. He has worked closely with biologists and resource specialists at the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Nature Conservancy, U.S. Forest Service, Native American Tribes, and state wildlife agencies. He has worked throughout the US west, including Colorado, Alaska, Wyoming, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, North Dakota, Montana, Oklahoma, California and Nevada.

Mr. Fillipi is certified to conduct Swainson's Hawk, San Joaquin Kit Fox, Blunt-nosed Leopard Lizard, Giant Kangaroo Rat, Desert Tortoise, and Burrowing Owl protocol surveys, as well as avian point count and raptor surveys.

Mr. Fillipi has expertise in threatened and endangered species surveys, wetland delineation, vegetation and revegetation mapping, rare plant surveys, habitat assessments, NEPA processes, Biological Assessments, and technical reports.

Notable recent projects include I-70 Floyd Hill to Veterans Memorial Tunnels, I-70 Bakerville to EJMT Auxiliary Lane, Erie Parkway Bridge Over Coal Creek, FCUP Tribal Lands Uranium Mining, NGIV2 Transmission Line, and numerous solar and wind development projects.